A LETTER FROM FATHER TIM

DEAR FRIENDS,

In a year that tested us like no other, we have much to be thankful for.

It started in late 2020 when we successfully relocated our operations from Saint Antoine Street to the TCF Center. The expanded space was an answer to our prayers, and your generosity allowed us to serve up to 500 people a day, as COVID-19 disrupted lives and forced more people onto the streets.

As vaccines began distribution in January, we moved quickly to set up clinics and demonstrate to our guests that getting vaccinated was a safe and effective way to minimize the coronavirus' deadly impact. Our work was singled out by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for success in vaccinating the unsheltered.

A front-page story in the Detroit Free Press about Ford CEO Jim Farley's work at our center drew new readers to our mission.

A month later, on April 15, our donors enabled us to set a new fundraising record at our Building Bridges gala, bringing in $1,016,831, and ensuring that we could shoulder the added expenses related to the pandemic. That same night we announced a $7 million gift from The Julia Burke Foundation.

The Burke donation — our largest single gift ever — puts us within striking distance of the $22 million we need to break ground on the Bridge Housing Campus — our solution to ending chronic homelessness in Detroit.

The summer saw us again move operations, this time back to our original Saint Antoine St. location. Again, it was donor generosity that led the way for us to serve guests. Our donated shower trailer meant we could continue to provide guests the option of a refreshing shower.

Throughout all this I am incredibly proud of the work our staff and volunteers have done, putting their own lives at risk to feed, clean, clothe and sustain the guests who come through our doors each day.

Most of all I am full of gratitude for the support we received from our donors. Your generosity makes it possible to ease the suffering of those in our community who struggle to find a safe place to sleep or enough to eat.

Thank you for being there for us, even at a time when you and your own loved ones faced the hardships and uncertainty of a global pandemic. ✝

With deep gratitude,

Fr. Tim McCabe, SJ
Executive Director, Pope Francis Center

2020-2021 IMPACT

In a year dominated by the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, our community stepped up to serve our most vulnerable neighbors in unprecedented ways. Thanks to your support, our programs and services saw our strongest year yet.

guests daily

meals served

2,550
loads of laundry

6,094

HYGIENE

Access to proper hygiene is a luxury many of us take for granted. Clean clothes, a warm shower, and access to hygiene items remind guests of their inherent dignity and protect against health concerns.

NUTRITION

Two hot meals daily, made from scratch and filled with nutrition. The meals Chef Kevin and our volunteers serve nourish our guests' physical, mental, and social health.

HOUSING ADVOCACY

Our team of housing specialists work in partnership with other service providers to bring guests experiencing homelessness into permanent supportive housing.

CLINICS

With our rotation of daily clinics, Center partners provide any supportive service a guest could need, including medical, dental, legal, podiatric, and bike repair—all without charge.

TCF CENTER

From November 2020 to June 2021, we relocated our operations to TCF Center. The expansive space meant we could serve even more guests while maintaining social distancing guidelines.

VOLUNTEERS

Our volunteers are truly the unsung heroes of our work. Their steadfast commitment and selfless service to our guests helps make the Center the community that it is.

FINANCIALS

In our 2020-2021 year, your support brought in a record $5.7 million in contributions, grants, and donations, plus capital towards our future Bridge Housing Campus.

FROM HART TO HOME

If you're going to talk to Willie, be ready to laugh. Because Willie's laugh is infectious. It rolls out easy and often.

It helps that Willie's outgoing energy can make just about any story funny. And he has a lot of them. Like when his twin sister taught him to drive a Chicago city dump truck with a manual transmission after his father ordered him to learn fast. "She jumped in and said, 'Listen, bud. Left foot clutch – right foot gas!'" he said, chuckles pouring out at the memory.

The energy to laugh is also something Willie gets from the Pope Francis Center, where he has been a regular guest for the past seven years.

"To have humor – humor is one of the greatest things you can get at the Pope Francis Center. There's always a smile. That's like a ray of sunshine," he said.

Willie's story starts in Chicago, where he was born. He moved to Detroit when he was 5, and after graduating from Southeastern High School, he returned to Chicago where his father lived. Gang life loomed large and he was eventually arrested and spent time in prison.

Released in 1991, Willie trained as a cook. He worked in other kitchens across Illinois, Ohio and Michigan. The chefs he cooked under expanded his repertoire, but there was a problem. No stranger to illegal drugs, Willie suspected one of his supervisors had an addiction problem. He intervened, but the supervisor did not appreciate Willie's involvement and let him go. Out of work, Willie had trouble getting back on his feet.

By 2014, Willie was living outside in Detroit's Hart Plaza. That's when he started visiting Pope Francis Center for food, a shower, clean clothes and the feeling that someone had an interest in his personal welfare.

"Pope Francis Center helped save my life quite a few times," he said. "When you find out that somebody cares about you, it gives you a reason to do good and turn your life around."

After working with Pope Francis Center Housing Specialist Chris Harthen in the spring of 2021, Willie qualified for permanent supportive housing.

It's now a Friday in mid-July. Heavy rains are forecast to drench the Detroit area. Sitting in a dry refuge inside the Center, Willie gets a couple of phone calls about his new apartment and putting down a deposit. He's set to move in the next day.

Willie is appreciative of the help he's getting from Pope Francis Center to furnish the apartment. He has an idea to do a "before and after" photo.

"Let's put it on the website and say, 'Look! This is what can be done with a person who was homeless for seven years.' If I can do it – anybody can do it."

In late summer, thanks to Pope Francis Center's Housing Advocacy program, Willie's apartment was transformed into a home with a truckload of tables, chairs, a bed, and a sofa, as well as household items such as pots, pans and other supplies that he plans to use for making meals when his friends come over. ✝

CHANGE FOR CHANGE

2020 Thrive Campaign

The fifth annual Thrive Crowdfunding Campaign set a goal of raising $50,000 to support the Center's laundry program.

The campaign's signature events had to navigate the added complexity of social distancing and COVID protocols, ushering in the creation of Cooking with Clergy: a virtual pizza-making experience broadcasted via Zoom.

Stretch at Sunset saw dozens of participants enjoying yoga in Campus Martius, while the Off-Road Rally had PFC friends running all over Detroit following clues to get across the finish line.

Sixty people raised money online through social media and their personal networks, bringing the grand total raised throughout the month of September to $53,100.00.

BUILDING BRIDGES

2021 Annual Gala

Building Bridges, Pope Francis Center's 2021 Annual Gala, offered a one-of-a-kind take on the traditional fundraising event. On April 15, nearly 300 supporters checked into suites at the Shinola Hotel, the Siren Hotel, and the Detroit Foundation Hotel for PFC's first virtual gala.

Broadcasted live from the Detroit Public TV studios, WDIV's Chuck Gaidica and Fr. Tim welcomed video messages from celebrity guests Martin Sheen and Mark Wahlberg. Through their hotel televisions, attendees enjoyed live performances from the Detroit Youth Choir, Ben Sharkey, Alvin Waddles, and Motown legend Gladys Knight.

Ford CEO Jim Farley received the 2021 Zito-Brender Legacy Award for his commitment to the Pope Francis Center and dedication to serving the Metro Detroit community.

A PLACE TO CALL HOME

Marcia doesn't need to come to Pope Francis Center each day. She's got an apartment where she can cook and take care of herself.

But it wasn't always that way. Growing up on Detroit's southwest side, Marcia's childhood was turbulent. Her father was killed in front of her when she was six years old. Like her mother and other family members, she battled mental illness.

Adding to the stress were family expectations. Smart and athletic, there were $2,000-a-month gymnastics lessons and trigonometry and an anticipation she would go to college and earn a teaching degree.

"It was too much pressure," she says. "It just wasn't for me."

As a teenager, Marcia became a mother. Six more kids followed. The pressure grew until Marcia had a mental breakdown. She asked Michigan Child Protective Services for help. A judge ruled hers was a case of poverty, not abuse. There were classes and other interactions with social service agencies. Unfortunately, things got worse. She wound up sleeping on the streets.

"I'm thankful I didn't get off into hard drugs, but I was a raging alcoholic. I was fighting every day and just not caring," she remembers.

She heard about Pope Francis Center from others on the street and started to visit. For the first time in a long time she felt a sense of peace. A place where there were no hidden agendas or judgment. Instead, a community of people – guests, volunteers, staff — who come together each morning to help or be helped.

"You've lost so much in life, you've already been through enough, you don't want to get pulled down anymore. So to come somewhere and meet people you don't even know who truly generally care about people. And then they take their time out and say you are special, you are someone. That means the world," she says.

In the beginning, it was basic services that Marcia needed most. A shower. A place to clean and iron her clothes. Medical specialists to help with feet exposed to the elements. The simple measures that help restore dignity.

"Those things will start to bring you back to life," she says. "And you need that. Know what I'm saying? No matter where you are in life, you have to have a sense of you from the beginning so you cannot stay stuck where you are. And just little by little come out of your slump. And that's why this place is extremely important."

"No matter where you are in life, you have to have a sense of you from the beginning so you cannot stay stuck where you are."

That was eight years ago. Today, Marcia still comes back to Pope Francis Center on a regular basis. She doesn't need the hot breakfast or a place to do her laundry. She comes for the sense of belonging. To talk to Glory, a volunteer, who asks how her hand is recovering from an injury she suffered.

After her next hand surgery, Marcia hopes to return to the facilities job she had working downtown at Ford Field and Little Caesars Arena.

And she has a message for the people who support Pope Francis Center.

"Keep giving. Know that everything that you are doing is truly making a difference," she says. "Even though I'm not where I want to be, I am so much better than where I was. I truly am, and it is this place that gave me that." ✝

BRIDGE HOUSING CAMPUS

In 2021, Pope Francis Center reached an agreement with the City of Detroit to purchase a 5.3-acre parcel of land in the Core City neighborhood for our new Bridge Housing Campus. The deal moves our plans for an innovative solution to end chronic homelessness in Detroit by 2030 one step closer to reality.

The site, which is currently vacant land, is bordered by Warren Avenue, Lawton Street, Jeffries Service Drive and railroad tracks. When completed, the Campus will include 40 studio apartments. The campus will feature trauma-informed care involving intensive medical, respite, psychological, addiction, social and job-readiness services designed to break the cycles of chronic homelessness.

Members of the Core City community will be eligible for free access to campus services such as a medical and dental clinic, library, computer lab, gymnasium, barber shop, art studio and other life skills services.

"Our goal is to help the chronically homeless rebuild their lives, while at the same time building the community around us," said Father Tim McCabe, SJ.

Under Fr. McCabe, Pope Francis Center has pledged to end chronic homelessness in Detroit by 2030. Central to the plan is construction of the 40-unit bridge housing facility. Before ground-breaking can occur, the Detroit City Planning Commission and Detroit City Council need to approve a rezoning request for the 5.3-acre parcel.

The cost to develop and build the campus is $22 million. Pope Francis Center has so far raised $16 million. That includes a $7 million donation from the California-based Julia Burke Foundation, the largest ever single contribution Pope Francis Center has received.

"The Julia Burke Foundation gift was a reminder of the tremendous generosity that exists in our extended family," said Fr. Tim. "I'm confident we will reach our fundraising goal in time to break ground later this fall." ✝

DONORS

A donation to the Pope Francis Center is an expression of care for our guests. With your gift, you are feeding a hungry neighbor, providing a new set of clothing, helping with medical and legal issues, or bringing a guest closer to permanent housing.

But your donation is even more than that. A gift to the Center is a recognition of shared humanity and kinship. You are helping to create a circle of compassion that grows every day — meeting people at the margins of society and then erasing those margins until we recognize that we are all the same in God's eyes.

With the individuals and organizations listed on the following pages, we celebrate and give thanks for all who have given so that we might walk with our guests towards sustained stability.
